

110 West Facing Home Plans As Per Vastu Shastra

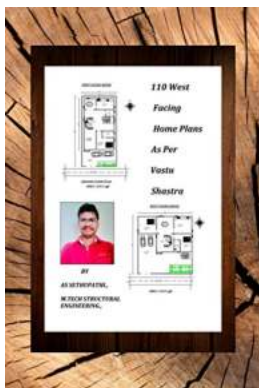

Vastu Shastra, an ancient Indian science of architecture, offers guidelines and principles for constructing homes that promote harmony and positive energy flow. While designing a house, the direction it faces plays a crucial role in determining its overall energy. In this article, we will explore 110 West facing home plans that are in alignment with the principles of Vastu Shastra.

Why West Facing Homes?

The West direction is associated with Lord Varuna, the god of water. It is believed that owning a west-facing home brings prosperity, wealth, and abundance. West-facing homes are also considered ideal for business purposes, as the setting sun symbolizes the end of the day and signifies closure.

Key Vastu Guidelines for West Facing Homes

When planning a west-facing home, it is essential to adhere to certain principles of Vastu Shastra. Here are some key guidelines to keep in mind:

- Entrance: The main entrance of the house should ideally be towards the northeast or northwest direction. This attracts positive energy and ensures the flow of abundance into the house.
- Living Room: Place the living room in the northeast or northwest corner. This helps create a positive and welcoming atmosphere for guests.
- Kitchen: The kitchen should be positioned in the southeast direction of the house. This is considered auspicious as it aligns with the element of fire.
- Bedrooms: For bedrooms, choose the southwest or south direction. These areas are associated with relaxation and peace.
- Bathrooms: Ensure that the bathrooms are placed in the northwest or southeast direction. This helps maintain the overall energy balance in the house.
- Staircase: If your home has a staircase, it should be built in the southwest corner. A well-designed staircase brings stability and enables smooth energy flow.
- Garden: Having a garden in the northwest or southeast direction is considered auspicious. It brings freshness and positive vibes to the house.
- Avoid: Avoid constructing a borewell, septic tank, or underground water tank in the southwest corner of the house, as it may lead to financial losses and health issues.
