Delving Into the Pages of Volume Two

Volume Two of the Library of Arabic Literature features an eclectic mix of literary gems, each offering a distinctive insight into the Arab world's diverse cultures and traditions. Let's take a closer look at some of the standout works included in this exceptional collection:

1. "The Necklace Without Peer" by Ibn 'Abd Rabbihi

Immerse yourself in the captivating world of medieval Andalusian literature with this mesmerizing collection of pre-Islamic Arabic poetry. "The Necklace Without Peer" is a remarkable exploration of love, beauty, and longing, set against the backdrop of an era renowned for its rich poetic traditions.

This anthology offers readers a unique opportunity to experience the exquisite artistry of Ibn 'Abd Rabbihi, a key figure in Andalusian literary circles. As you explore the verses and immerse yourself in the lyrical beauty of this collection, you'll witness the brilliance that defines Arabic poetry.

2. "The Death of a Muslim Woman" by Nawal El Saadawi

Nawal El Saadawi, a prominent figure in modern Arabic literature, presents a haunting and thought-provoking account of the experiences of women in patriarchal societies. In "The Death of a Muslim Woman," El Saadawi addresses issues of female oppression, religious fundamentalism, and the struggle for identity.

Through her evocative storytelling, El Saadawi skillfully weaves together the voices of different women, giving voice to those who have been silenced by societal norms. This literary masterpiece sheds light on the ongoing battle for gender equality and emancipation in the Arab world and beyond.

3. "Arabic Literary Modernism: An Anthology" edited by Reuven Snir

Discover the evolution of Arabic literature through the lens of modernism in this illuminating anthology edited by esteemed scholar Reuven Snir. "Arabic Literary Modernism: An Anthology" provides a comprehensive overview of the emergence and development of modernist movements within Arabic literature.

Featuring works from celebrated authors such as Khalil Gibran and Nazik al-Mala'ika, this anthology offers a nuanced understanding of the social, political, and cultural contexts that shaped modern Arabic literary movements. Each carefully curated piece exemplifies the revolutionary spirit that surged through the Arab literary landscape during the 20th century.

The adventures of the man who created Aladdin

The Book of Travels is Ḥannā Diyāb's remarkable first-person account of his travels as a young man from his hometown of Aleppo to the court of Versailles and back again, which forever linked him to one of the most popular pieces of world literature, the Thousand and One Nights.

Diyāb, a Maronite Christian, served as a guide and interpreter for the French naturalist and antiquarian Paul Lucas. Between 1706 and 1716, Diyāb and Lucas traveled through Syria, Cyprus, Egypt, Tripolitania, Tunis, Italy, and France. In Paris, Ḥannā Diyāb met Antoine Galland, who added to his wildly popular translation of the Thousand and One Nights several tales related by Diyāb, including “Aladdin” and “Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves.” When Lucas failed to make good on his promise of a position for Diyāb at Louis XIV’s Royal Library, Diyāb returned to Aleppo. In his old age, he wrote this engaging account of his youthful adventures, from capture by pirates in the Mediterranean to quack medicine and near-death experiences.

Translated into English for the first time, The Book of Travels introduces readers to the young Syrian responsible for some of the most beloved stories from the Thousand and One Nights.
