

Four Easy Weekend Projects: Ehow Easy DIY

Weekends are an ideal time to tackle some fun and creative projects that not only add a personal touch to your living space but also help you relax and unwind.

Whether you love tinkering with tools or have a passion for art and crafts, these four easy weekend projects from Ehow will ignite your creative spark and leave you feeling accomplished. So, put on your DIY hat and get ready for some easy and enjoyable projects to transform your space!

1. Create Your Own Hanging Herb Garden

If you have a green thumb and love the idea of having fresh herbs at your fingertips, creating a hanging herb garden is the perfect project for you. Not only is it practical, but it also adds a touch of greenery to your kitchen or outdoor area.

To get started, find some old tin cans or mason jars, and coat them with a fresh layer of paint. Once dry, attach hooks to the lids, allowing you to hang the containers vertically. Fill each container with soil, and plant your favorite herbs. Hang them up in a sunny spot, and watch them flourish. Now, you'll have fresh herbs for your culinary creations anytime!

2. Build Your Own Custom Bookshelf

Are your books scattered all over the place? It's time to create an eye-catching custom bookshelf that not only organizes your collection but also adds a unique touch to your living room.

Gather some sturdy wooden planks and sand them down to remove any rough edges. Paint or stain the planks in a color that matches your interior decor. Once dry, stack the planks in a vertical or staggering pattern, securing them together with screws or wooden dowels. Mount the bookshelf on the wall, and showcase your books with pride. This project will not only declutter your space but also become a focal point of your room.

3. Design and Create Custom Photo Frames

Are your precious memories sitting in a drawer? Bring them to life by designing and creating your own custom photo frames. Not only will this add a personalized touch to your space, but it will also remind you of those special moments every time you glance at the framed photo.

Visit a local craft store and purchase plain wooden frames. Choose from a variety of paints, stains, or decoupage papers to add a unique flair to the frame. You can also attach small trinkets or embellishments to make it truly one-of-a-kind. Insert your favorite photo into the frame, and proudly display it on a shelf or hang it on a wall. This DIY project is a great way to showcase your creativity while cherishing your precious memories.

4. Craft Your Own Upcycled Planters

Create a charming and eco-friendly garden by crafting your own upcycled planters. Not only does this project give a new life to discarded items, but it also adds a touch of elegance to your garden or balcony.

Find various containers around your home, such as old teapots, buckets, or even tires. Clean them thoroughly and apply a coating of waterproof paint in your desired color. Once dry, fill the containers with soil and plant your favorite flowers or greenery. Arrange them in your outdoor space, and watch as they transform into beautiful and unique planters.

Get Creative and Have Fun!

These weekend projects are just the tip of the iceberg when it comes to easy and enjoyable DIY ideas. Get creative, explore your interests, and let your imagination run wild. Not only will you have beautiful additions to your home, but you'll also enjoy the satisfaction that comes with completing a project with your own two hands.

So, grab your tools and materials, put on your favorite playlist, and embark on a weekend filled with creativity and fun. Start with these four easy projects from Ehow, and soon you'll become a DIY aficionado!

Only have a weekend to decorate your house with some molding? Molding & Medallions: Four Easy Weekend Projects will easily take you through the process and can help you finish by the time Monday rolls around. Inside you will find color photos, expert step-by-step instructions, safety concerns, and tools and materials you will need. Projects include wall frame moldings, ceiling medallions, and crown moldings.

Excerpt from the Book:

Today, mass-production brings a whole range of molding possibilities to any home builder or remodeler, from re-creations of built-up cornices to replications of hand-carved plaster moldings made from cast polyurethane. Creative trim carpenters have learned to combine stock moldings to create a nearly infinite variety of complex profiles.

Decorative moldings add a permanent elegance to an interior space, and do-it-yourselfers now have many options to choose from. For example, you can create wall frame moldings using basic wood trim available at any home center. Or, you can choose from among the many new polyurethane products now available from specialty retailers and catalog vendors. Whichever products you choose, this book will show you the tools and basic installation techniques you'll need to do the job.
