As you approach, you can sense their longing for freedom, their wings yearning to spread wide and feel the rush of wind beneath them. It is at this precise moment that you decide to take action and unleash the power of your remarkable technique.

The first step in this awe-inspiring process involves connecting deeply with the energy of the birds. Close your eyes and envision yourself as one with these magnificent creatures. Feel the flutter of their wings, the anticipation of soaring high above the clouds.

Now, as you open your eyes, focus your gaze on the first bird. This will be the bird that leads the way, the trailblazer for the other two. Take a deep breath and release any doubts or fears that might hinder your connection with the bird.

Once you feel ready, extend your hand towards the cage and gently tap it three times. With each tap, visualize a burst of energy emanating from your palm, cascading through the cage, and enveloping the bird in a warm embrace. As the energy seeps into its being, you will witness a transformation - the first bird will become shrouded in a vibrant glow, its wings burgeoning with newfound strength.

Be patient and observe as the bird takes flight, soaring higher and higher until it disappears into the distance. Feel a surge of joy and fulfillment as you witness its release, knowing that you have played a crucial role in granting its freedom.

Now, it's time to focus on the second bird. Repeat the same process - connect with its energy, tap the cage three times, and visualize the surge of energy enveloping it. As before, feel a sense of euphoria as the second bird takes flight, mirroring the first in its journey towards liberation.

Finally, turn your attention to the third bird. By now, you have mastered the technique and are attuned to the profound connection between yourself and these amazing creatures. Repeat the steps once more and watch, with a heart bursting with anticipation, as the final bird spreads its wings and embarks on its own incredible voyage to freedom.

As the three birds disappear into the horizon, their freedom a testament to your extraordinary abilities, take a moment to reflect on the immense power within you. You possess the capacity to change lives, to free beings from the shackles of captivity.

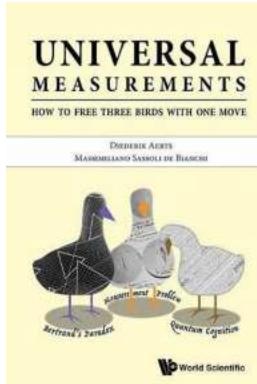

But this technique is about more than just freeing birds. It is a metaphor for our own liberation - a reminder that we are not bound by the cages of our own making. We have the power within us to break free from our limitations and soar towards the heights of our true potential.

So, the next time you find yourself in a garden, surrounded by the enchanting melodies of birds, remember the technique that can free three of them in one move. Embrace the awe-inspiring power within you, connect with their energy, and set them free - and in doing so, set yourself free as well.

Open your heart and mind to the boundless possibilities that lie ahead. Embrace the spirit of the birds and let it guide you towards a life of unparalleled freedom and fulfillment.

This is a book presenting to a wide audience of readers, ranging from fans of science to professional researchers, some of the authors' recent discoveries in three distinct, but intimately related domains: probability theory (Bertrand's paradox), observation in physics (the measurement problem) and the modeling of experiments in psychology (quantum cognition). In all three of these domains of investigation, and the associated problems, the authors explain how to advantageously use the key notion of universal measurement, which constitutes the fil rouge of the whole text.
