"My dog is usually pleased with what I do because she is not infected with the concept of what I should be doing." - Lonely Island

This quote perfectly captures the carefree and non-judgmental nature of dogs. They do not have expectations or preconceived notions of how we should behave, which is often refreshing in a world that constantly imposes certain standards.

"My fashion philosophy is if you're not covered in dog hair, your life is empty." - Elayne Boosler

Anyone who lives with dogs can relate to this humorous insight. Dog hair seems to have a magical ability to find its way onto our clothes, furniture, and pretty much everything else. Instead of fighting it, embracing the dog hair can be seen as a testament to a life filled with love and joy shared with our furry friends.

"Dogs have owners, cats have staff." - Unknown

This playful quote puts a humorous spin on the distinct personalities of dogs and cats. While dogs often seek affection and attention from their owners, cats tend to be more independent and selective about whom they grace with their presence. As dog owners, we happily take on the role of being beloved "owners" instead of mere "staff."

Hilarious Canine Tales

In addition to these witty remarks, there are countless amusing anecdotes that dog owners love to share:

Tripping Over a Shadow

One dog owner recounts a comical experience of tripping over their dog's shadow while walking in broad daylight. The owner playfully states, "I guess my dog's shadow was just too stealthy for me to avoid. It was like being taken down by an invisible force! Luckily, I quickly recovered, and we both continued on our walk with a few giggles."

The Sneaky Hide-and-Seek Master

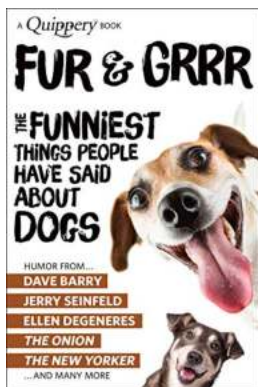

Another hilarious story involves a mischievous dog who had a habit of hiding their owner's shoes. The owner shares, "I spent hours searching for my missing shoes, only to find out that my sneaky pup had been stashing them under the bed. It turns out the dog wanted to play hide-and-seek with me, and my shoes were their favorite hiding spot! I must admit, it was a clever prank."

The Photobomb Masterpiece

Lastly, a dog owner shares a memorable photo session disaster. While attempting to take a family portrait, their dog unexpectedly jumped into the frame, stealing the spotlight from everyone else. The owner jokes, "It's like our dog had a sixth sense for photo opportunities. The picture ended up being a hilarious masterpiece with our bewildered expressions and our dog's proud face right in the center. It definitely made for an unforgettable family memory."

Dogs bring so much laughter and joy into our lives, and it's no wonder people have shared countless funny remarks and anecdotes about them. From famous quotes to personal experiences, these humorous narratives remind us of the lighthearted nature of our furry friends and the unforgettable moments they create. The next time you need a good laugh, remember the funny things people have said about dogs. They truly hold a special place in our hearts and our sense of humor!

Hours of laughter for dog lovers.

Laugh-out-loud humor from Dave Barry • Ellen DeGeneres • Jerry Seinfeld • The New Yorker • The Onion • Paula Poundstone • Steven Wright • Jay Leno • David Letterman • George Carlin • Rita Rudner • Bill Maher • Wanda Sykes • Erma

Bombeck • Jeff Foxworthy — and many more. Plus hilarious tweets from folks like you.

- Ellen DeGeneres tells you about her dogs' intelligence — "I'm smarter than my dogs. Well, smarter than one of my dogs."
- Dave Barry advises you on the best dog food for your dog — for starters, be sure you get "brown dog food."
- Jerry Seinfeld observes: "On my block, a lot of people walk their dogs and I always see them walking along with their little poop bags. This, to me, is the lowest activity in human life. Following a dog with a little scooper."
- The Onion advises on "Choosing the Right Dog for You" — "First, decide which type of dog hair you want to stick to everything you own for the rest of your life."
- The Onion also offers tips for training your dog — including, "Start with simple commands like 'sit' before working your way up to the more complicated ones like 'fill the gaping void in my life.'"
- The New Yorker talks about "Things I Want to Ask My Dog" — such as, "That time I came home and the garbage was all over the kitchen floor, and you acted like you couldn't remember how it happened because you 'live in the moment,' did you actually remember? Be honest."
- Humorist Jack Handey advises: "Better not take a dog on the space shuttle, because if he sticks his head out when you're coming home his face might burn up."

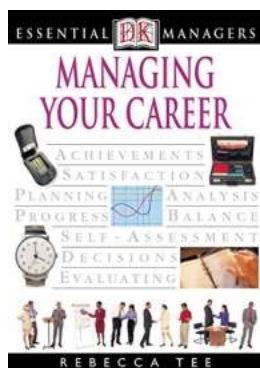

And several hundred pages more.
