Do you struggle with money? Whether it's saving it, spending it wisely, or even how to make it grow?

When was the last time your paycheck made it all the way through the week? Or better yet, all through the month? Can you recall the last time you weren't stressed over how much debt you are in? What about your job? Ever found yourself wondering whether this is what you were meant for, or do you feel that you should be following another path?

For a lot of us, money is a tricky subject from making to spending it, saving it, and even making it grow. Every day we are faced with money decisions, and even when it seems simple enough, we still end up making the wrong ones. How many times have you ordered something, knowing you don't have the cash for it? It's something we are all guilty of. So why are we like this? Why are so many bad at handling money?

It's simple. We don't truly understand our relationship with money, and as such, we tend to mishandle it a lot. Read that as having no control over it. Shockingly this lack of control stems from not having the right education, and this tends to color how we perceive money.

The Probability of your Profits - A Blueprint for Your Happiness and Financial Success, you will learn:
